ALBANY VS. CHEMAWA.—The Colts are arranging a game of baseball with the Indians of Chemawa, to be played Saturday if possible says the Albany Democrat.

A HIGH OLD TIME.

Three Deck-Hands Attempt to Paint the Town Red.

Last night three of the Albany's deck-hands came down town and attempted to give our two efficient night policemen, Messrs. Gibson and Gamble, a lesson in maintaining good order. The manner in which they started about their undertaking was certainly not very commendable.

After filling up on "firewater," etc., they held a caucus on Commercial street near Mel Hamilton's saloon about 12 o'clock when they intended to decide on a successor to Chief of Police Dilley. The men soon became boisterous and several who happened on the street at that late hour were soon attracted to the meeting.

Presently Policeman Gamble arrived on the scene and advised the most boisterous of the three to cease making so much disturbance at the same time advising him to go home and go to bed. But this did not seem to have the desired effect since the long winded orator did not even stop for breath.

He was warned a second and a third time but would not conclude his speech. Finally Officer Gibson, assisted by Officer Gibson, who was standing near by, took him in custody and started for the Hotel de Dilley. The other two deck-hands followed along behind the officers for the purpose of ascertaining what disposition should be made of their "pal."

They approached the officers very closely at times and were frequently warned to desist but would pay no heed to the officers. When in front of Patton Bros. on State street the men hesitated for a moment and the officers were just congratulating themselves that the two "bullies" were going to return to the boat, when on looking around, they saw the men removing their coats. In the meantime the man in custody was fighting desperately to gain his freedom.

In scuffling with the man Officer Gibson lost his police "billy" which luckily did not fall into the hands of the ruffians. A moment later, on looking around, Officer Gamble saw the two men making for them very rapidly. He notified Officer Gibson of the action of the men. Gibson looked over his shoulder just in time to get a fearful blow over the left cheek from the toughest fist of one of the ruffians. Two other blows were also received on the head simultaneously but the officer managed to maintain his footing. Mr. Gibson then drew his revolver and fired at the retreating men but it did not take effect.

Seeing the officer intended to shoot the men fled rapidly toward the river, not heeding the command to halt. Officer Gibson attempted to take another shot at the fleeing men, but the chamber of the revolver refused to revolve. The officers succeeded in getting their man to the jail without any further incident, except that Officer Gibson used the butt of his pistol to excellent advantage over the cranium of the unruly prisoner.

ON THE WILLAMETTE.

Steamer Hoag Has a Collision With the Albany.

The river now registers less than 2 feet above low water mark and, as it gradually falls more bars and other obstructions to river navigation, are exposed, and are a great hindrance to crafts that attempt to run on schedule time.

The Ruth came down from Corvallis last evening, remained in Salem over night and steamed away for Portland at 7:30 a. m.

Steamer Gypsy will arrive down from Corvallis this afternoon and proceed on to Portland at 7:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Steamer Gray Eagle left at 7:30 this morning for Mission Landing, where she will connect with the Altona, and return to Salem this evening.

Steamer Albany left for up-river points at 6 o'clock this morning, expecting to return again tomorrow afternoon.

Last evening about 6 o'clock, as the steamer Hoag, which had just arrived up from Portland, was trying to effect a landing alongside the steamer Albany, at the O. C. T. Co's dock, she, (the Hoag) collided with the rear end of the Albany, badly damaging herself.

The whole side of the lower deck, for about 25 feet, was badly demoralized. Besides, some of the machinery of the Hoag was also broken. Scarcely any damage was done the Albany. The machinery of the Hoag was repaired last night, and that steamer left for down river points at 7 a. m. today. The damages will not amount to over $50.

A Sound Money Man.

Last fall J. M. Needham painted the house at Morningside in which C. B. Irvine of the Statesman, lives. He received in part payment for his services, a cow leaving a balance due Mr. Needham, of about $58. The painter waited patiently for his money until the expiration of sixty days, when he concluded to place a lien on the house. Mr. Needham hated very much to pursue such a course in order that he might obtain what was justly due him, but thought circumstances necessitated such action.

Before placing a lien on the building, Mr. Needham wished to ascertain to a certainty who owned the property, and accordingly made some inquiries with astounding results. He learned that neither Mr. Irvine nor his wife, holds a deed for the property; that the lots belong to the defunct Salem Motor Railway Company. This information greatly pained Mr. Needham, who is a laboring man, and needs the money badly. He had furnished the paint, which was purchased at Gilbert & Patterson's, and he feels not a little embarrassed over his situation. But he is still waiting for it. Of course, the apostle of "sound money," who prints columns as the laboring man's friend, will pay this bill—when he is compelled to.

HOP OUTLOOK.—Phil Neis, one of the Capital City's hop buyers, went to Portland on the Salem local this morning. When asked concerning the present outlook for the hop crop this fall, he stated that the prospects for buyers looked very gloomy. Mr. Neis estimates that the crop in Oregon will amount to 55,000 bales, providing all fields are picked. An overproduction of 350,000 bales during 1894-5 over the total consumption, which are now held by brewers, will effect quite materially the sale of this year's product. Rain is needed badly to insure the raiser a good yield.

SODA WOKS.—Mr. H. A. Bonney, of Salem, is in Eugene making arrangements to put in a soda works plant. He expects to remove to this city and began operations as soon as he can get located. This will make two plants in this city, one being now operated in the rear of Julius Goldsmith's cigar store by Richard Brown.—Guard.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF.—Judge Terrell this morning made his decision in the case of Mrs. Sarah W. Stinson vs. C. B. Moores, tried before his honor yesterday. He overruled the motion of defendant for an amended answer, and decreed for plaintiff, finding $471.21 due on the notes, and rendering judgment therefor.

AN INDEPENDENCE FIRE.

A Two-Story Frame Building Completely Destroyed.

About 1 o'clock this morning a two story frame building located on Main street at Independence caught fire and contents were destroyed. The building was occupied by Mrs. Caplin, who conducted a lunch counter and lodging house. The origin of the fire is not known but is thought to have started in the kitchen. The building was entirely gutted and nothing was saved. The building belonged to Mr. A. Nelson and was not insured. The furniture however was insured for $500. The total loss will probably amount to $1,500.

CRAZIES ESCAPED.—Early this morning three patients at the insane asylum made their escape. They were caught about 9 o'clock on the Sweigle ranch about 2 miles northeast of the asylum.

QUICK WORK.—Mr. Murphy's tile works in North Salem are a great benefit to Salem and all will be glad to know that the recently burned structure is being rebuilt and will soon be in operation.

Yard-Bullard Divorce.

LONDON, July 21.—The trial of the Yard-Bullard divorce case has begun. The plaintiff is Hon. Walter Yard-Bullard, brother of Lord Churston, and a member of the distinguished family of Devonshire. The defendant, Mrs. Lillian Yard-Bullard, is a daughter of the late General J. W. Kirkham, who was a wealthy resident of San Francisco.

The Yard-Bullards were married in 1886. The plaintiff alleges cruelty on the part of the defendant, and adultery with Valentine Gadsden, who is said to be a real estate agent in San Francisco. Mrs. Yard-Bullard denies the allegations and makes countercharges. Yard-Bullard testified that his wife behaved like a mad woman. Once she took poison. Some times she locked her husband out of the house.

Killed his Playmate.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Harry Rudolph, aged 11, struck two blows with his puny fists last evening, and his opponent, Grover Hansen, aged 9, fell dead at his feet. The lads were having a boyish quarrel, and young Hansen started to run. Rudolph followed in swift pursuit, catching the lad near the curb, and struck him in the face and abdomen. Little Hansen covered his face with his hands, fell backward, and expired. Young Rudolph was locked up.

The physician who examined young Hansen gave it as his opinion that the lad died from cerebral congestion, resulting from a shock affecting the heart action. Rudolph was released upon a statement of the facts to await the result of an inquest.

Shot her Half-Better.

CINCINNATI, July 24.—Six shots were heard at the residence of William T. Wiley, a ladies' tailor and furrier, on West Fifth street. Mrs. Wiley was found bleeding from six bullet wounds, and her husband was unconscious with a bullet hole in his right temple. The woman died on the way to the hospital. Wiley's wound was superficial, the ball glancing off the skull.

The couple, after frequent quarrels, had separated, but began to live together again about three months ago. Wiley says his wife shot him. He then seized the weapon and fired at her.

Wanted.—All girls to know that "Hoe Cake" will not make their hands red like common soap. Save the wrappers. They are worth a cent apiece. 191f

BORN.

SAUVAIN.—At the home in East Salem, Thursday, July 23, 1896, to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sauvain, a daughter.

The father of the new arrival is employed in the Court street fish market and wears a contented smile.

SHAFFER'S COLossal.—The finest raspberries ever brought to Salem are the new Shaffer's Colossal now being marketed by Nels Lunde, the gardener. They are similar to red variety but a trifle darker in color, and much sweeter, and of better flavor.

BUILDING BOOM.—Not a little building and improvements are going on about Salem this season, and mechanics find headquarters for the best paints and oils at Gilbert & Patterson's. 348f.

The dealer who says, "I have got Hoe Cake soap," practically admits that he does not sell first quality goods. If he says he has something "Just as good" you will know at once that he is trying to sell you an inferior article. There is more cheating destroyed by poor soap than by actual wear, as the free alkali rots the cloth. Hoe Cake contains neither free alkali nor worthless filling.
